JARUS WEBSITE

LAUNCH ANNOUNCEMENT

JARUS is very excited to announce the launch of our new designed website that is located at the same web address <http://jarus-rpas.org> as before. Our main goal was to make it easier to navigate and more user-friendly.

It was important for us to make our recommendations as easily accessible as possible with the most accurate, up-to-date information and share the knowledge and expertise of all our JARUS experts with the RPAS community. We also wanted to give the opportunity to know us better and who we are.

You'll find our new site is divided into six main sectors: What's JARUS, Press Releases, External Consultations, Publications, Community and Regulations. You can browse through them to catch up on what has been delivered so far and much more. The site maintenance is still on-going so some features might change or new ones could be added, therefore we apologize for this. We need to point out the tool JARUS has created to make comments on the draft documents before they are finally published under the section "External Consultations". We also take this opportunity to encourage you all to register into this tool when documents are published for "External Consultation" as your inputs are important to our experts when delivering recommendations.

Finally, we would like to thank UVS International for having hosted the previous the JARUS website since the very first stages and for the support provided all these years.

If you do not want to receive any emails from JARUS or you'd prefer that any JARUS communication was sent to a specific person or department, do please let us know.

If you experience any problems using the new website or if you have any questions, please contact us at the new email address;
